

Rangers Vow to Maintain Order at Lone Star

By JAMES MARTIN

DAINGERFIELD, Tex., (AP) — Texas Ranger Capt. Jay Banks, backed by armed reinforcements, today vowed to maintain order in this strike-torn east Texas area.

Rangers and State Patrolmen, were spread over a 10-county area surrounding the Lone Star Steel Co. plant, focal point of a bitter, six-week-old wildcat strike.

"This is an explosive situation," Banks said, standing outside his command post in a motel here.

"But we plan to take any action necessary to keep order."

Sporadic bombings, brawls and gunfire have rocked the area since the walkout started Sept. 21. The dispute centers on company policies in filling job vacancies.

"We're pretty sure most of the violence stems from the strike," said Banks, soft-spoken, 3-foot 3 peace officer with one notch on the huge pistol he carries.

Banks, 45, a riot buster seasoned by Texas' integration out-breaks, emphasized his forces were present only to help local authorities.

Three additional Rangers and 10 more State Patrolmen were dispatched to his command last night after an appeal to Gov. Price Daniel by Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News-Journal.

The reinforcements gave Banks a total of 10 Rangers.

"The bitterness of the strikers stems from the pocketbook," said a Daingerfield merchant, who asked not to be named. "They are sore at the guys who didn't walk out with them and those that later went back to work."

Company spokesmen say the plant had a work force of about 3,500 when the strike started. Nearly 700 men refused to join the unsanctioned strike and about 600 have quit picket lines to return to work. Around 350 new employees have been hired.

Medics Told Old Folks Need Attention

By RAY HENRY

CLEVELAND (AP) — A medical school dean said today that "a serious scandal" may soon develop if medical schools don't do more to meet the increasing health problems of older people.

This was the view of Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, assistant medical school dean at Ohio State University, at the 10th annual meeting of the Gerontology Society. Gerontology is the scientific study of old age.

"Medical schools," he said, "have the prime responsibility in preparing their graduates for a tremendous jump in geriatric practice."

"Unless this responsibility is promptly met, there may come a serious scandal in medical affairs which could adversely affect the traditionally high esteem in which people hold the medical profession."

Leake said the challenge to meet the problem results from the success of modern medicine in lengthening life.

Old people, he said, "do not know how to take care of themselves and no one else is prepared to do so either."

The training in medical schools for treating older people, Leake said, could become a major part of the effort of men who plan to go into general medical practice.

"The general practitioner may aid in direct preparation of his patients for old age by regular physical examinations, judicious counseling, and by specific programs of training in diet, exercise, mental relaxation, economic planning and human relations."

"The general practitioner," he said, "might indeed become again the personification of the ideal physician as guide, counselor and friend. To accomplish this mission medical schools will need careful organization and skillful planning for specific training programs in geriatrics."

In another speech, a University of Minnesota professor said that an individual's physical effort doesn't affect his earning capacity except for a small minority of jobs.

"Consequently," Dr. Ernst S. Monson, associate professor of physiology and hygiene, "there is no physical justification for the arbitrary compulsory retirement age of 65."

It can and probably will be raised with increasing pressure from the aging population.

Nixon May Be First Target of Georgians

ATLANTA (AP) — A member of a Georgia organization formed to resettle Negroes in exclusive Northern white neighborhoods says Vice President Richard Nixon may be the group's first target.

But the founder of the group, American Resettlement Foundation, Inc., said any such report was entirely without foundation.

State Welfare Director Alan Kemper, a charter member of the foundation, was asked about the Nixon report yesterday and replied:

"I would say Nixon is a pretty good candidate."

He declined, however, to be more specific.

State Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr. of Douglasville, founder of the organization, told The Associated Press there was nothing to the report.

"It is absolutely without foundation," Fowler declared.

Kemper said a large group will be moved into a white neighborhood in the city of Atlanta.

He said the group had obtained an option on a house in the $75,000 class in what he described as one of the outstanding cities in the United States.

Reports had located the house in the Wesley Heights area of northwest Washington, where the Nixon's live and had identified the owner as Mrs. Mary H. Renshaw.

A check made by the Washington Post and Times Herald revealed that Mrs. Renshaw was out of town.

Reached by telephone in Douglasville late last night, Fowler had this to say about the report:

"I haven't said anything about any house anywhere except to say we have an option on a house in a major American city into which we hope to move a worthy and qualified Negro family by Christmas."

In a letter telephone talk with the Post and Times Herald, Fowler amplified his earlier statement.

"I have nothing to do with the Washington rumor," the Washington paper quoted him. "My contact is in another place. In fact, I have negotiations going on in several cities. Many volunteers have written me offering property. We hope to have a wholesome Georgia family located in a Northern city before Christmas."

Tabernacle Revival Draws Big Crowds

The Bible Crusade is continuing nicely at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle with Evangelist John Bos-trom, of San Gabriel, Calif. The attendance has been good. The inspirational messages have been challenging.

The sermon for Friday, November 1st is entitled "God's Reasons for Healing the Sick Today." For the morning worship service at 11 the sermon is entitled, "The Winds of God," and during the evangelistic rally on Sunday evening, the sermon will be "Why Good People Go to Hell."

The Bible Crusade will continue through November 10th. There will be no services on Saturday evening. The public is invited.

Feels Ladies Have Gone Soft in 'Rights' Move

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to the equal rights movement, which was intended to give women the same rights as men?

Have the ladies gone soft? Very few of the ladies today seem to want to men the barriers in the light for greater freedom for their sex.

The thought was raised by the announcement that the British government has recommended that women be granted seats in the House of Lords for the first time in history.

"This would seem to be, on the face of it, one of the smallest steps to female equality possible and a largely meaningless political concession of a vanished grandeur and departed power, has about as much real influence on the affairs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The president of the Little Rock chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today surrendered to the police in compliance with a City Council order that all officers of the organization be arrested.

The NAACP official, the Rev. L. C. Crenshaw, was docketed on a charge of violating a new city ordinance which requires the association and certain other organizations to file membership and financial information.

Crenshaw, a Negro Baptist minister, went unaccompanied to the police station after being notified by telephone to appear. He immediately furnished bond of $300 and was released. Hearing was set tentatively for Monday.

The City Council last night voted unanimously to instruct police to arrest all NAACP officers they could find in this integration-troubled city.

Acting Mayor Lee H. Evans and seven aldermen agreed on the action after the NAACP failed to obey a new ordinance which requires certain groups to bare their confidential files.

Deadline for submitting the information was yesterday.

Only two local NAACP officers were known to authorities and one of them, Mrs. L. C. Bates, was in of the organization.

The other officer is the Rev. J. C. Crenshaw, pastor of the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church and president of the Little Rock chapter.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann notified the NAACP and three Little Rock segregationist groups Oct. 15 that they must have their records public under the new ordinance.

The NAACP this week filed a petition in U.S. District Court here requesting a restraining order to block enforcement of the ordinance and a hearing was set for Nov. 4.

All three of the segregationist groups — the League of Central High Mothers, the Freedom Fund for Little Rock and the Capital Citizens Council — submitted their records to the city yesterday.

Mann said after telling the four organizations to file their records that he considered all were contributing to racial tension at Little Rock.

Mann is in New York on a business trip.

The federal-state deadlock over integration of nine Negro students at Central High School shows no sign of loosening.

After Gov. Orval Faubus placed National Guardsmen around the school and the six Negro girls and three boys were barred, a federal court enjoined the governor from interfering with integration.

Faubus withdrew the guardsmen and rioting broke out when the Negroes entered Central High Sept. 23. Next day, President Eisenhower federalized the Arkansas Guardsmen and sent 1,000 paratroopers to Little Rock. The Negroes entered the school Sept. 25 and have attended classes since.

Although most of the guardsmen have been released from all duty and half of the 101st Airborne Division contingent has left Little Rock, federal soldiers still remain inside and outside Central High.

Mrs. Bates, who is on a speaking tour, addressed a New York NAACP committee last night. Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, said she would return soon to Little Rock and would be represented by adequate counsel.

Another NAACP spokesman said she planned to leave New York for Little Rock after a Sunday speaking engagement.

"She is not the kind to run away from a fight," the spokesman said.

Mr. Marshall said the Little Rock City Council's action was "another instance of the efforts of the segregationists."

California's Knight Seek Senate Seat

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Renewed reports that Gov. J. P. Win Knight would bid for a U.S. Senate seat instead of seeking its election next year, created fresh speculation in California's hectic political campaign today.

San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers, quoting both Washington sources and Knight's own statements, said the California governor was planning to bid for the U.S. Senate seat in 1960.

Such a decision would in effect hand the Republican nomination for governor to Sen. William P. Knowland and spare the GOP's bitter intraparty battle in next June's primary.

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

There was no direct confirmation from the 60-year-old governor. He left for a three-week rest Monday on doctor's orders after saying he still intended to seek re-election. Knight said then he had rejected overtures to run for the Senate.

He had the latest reports to the Senate.

Ike's Adviser on Payroll of Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Merlyn Pitzele, labor adviser to President Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign, testified today he drew $5,000 a year in 1953, 1954 and 1955 as an adviser to Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union.

"His pay checks, he told the special Senate-Roosevelt Investigating Committee, were received from Labor Relations Associates of Chicago, a firm headed by Nathan W. Shefferman."

Shefferman, described by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy as a specialist in "union busting," has been the principal subject of the senators' current inquiry into improper activities in the labor-management field.

Pitzele, now labor editor of Business Week Magazine, said he agreed to serve as a consultant to Beck shortly after Beck's election in 1952 as president of the Teamsters, the nation's largest union.

At the time Beck took office, succeeding the late Daniel Tobin, he was "tugged as a man who was going to clean up the Teamsters Union," Pitzele said, and was named to a committee of labor leaders assigned to clean up the New York waterfront.

But Pitzele testified, after serving as an adviser to Beck for two years, "I had my belly full. I came to certain conclusions then about Beck and the Teamsters, and I didn't want any more part of it."

Beck and James R. Hoffa, recently elected successor to him as president of the Teamsters, have since after that when he was asked to join the Senate Committee and by AFL-CIO leaders of misconduct in office and misuse of union funds.

In testifying before the committee last spring, Beck invoked his Fifth Amendment privilege against possible self-incrimination after three years when he was "tugged about the handling of thousands of dollars of union funds."

Pitzele, a onetime field representative for the CIO Steel Workers Organizing Committee and a faculty member at the University of Wisconsin, since 1949 has been a management consultant and labor editor of the magazine Business Week.

Pitzele also is a former chairman of the New York State Labor Mediation Board and was labor adviser to Thomas E. Dewey in Dewey's unsuccessful 1944 and 1948 presidential campaigns as well as to Eisenhower in 1952.

Kennedy said he expected today's session to be brief with possibly one other witness to be heard.

Kennedy identified the witness as Zigmund Snyder, missing for several weeks after he was subpoenaed to testify while the committee was looking into activities of James Hoffa, recently elected president of the Teamsters Union.

Kennedy said the committee was "tugged up with" Snyder in Detroit and ordered him to appear forthwith for questioning.

Snyder, committee aides said, was business agent of Hoffa's Local 209 of the Teamsters in Detroit and was head of the dockworkers' section.

Witnesses before the committee testified that while Snyder was an official of the Teamsters local he organized a stevedoring group that operated without union affiliation on Detroit's waterfront.

They testified also that he set up an auto wash business with non-union workers while other auto wash establishments in Detroit were forced to collect union dues from workers.

The new swing in the committee's inquiries into the nationwide operations of Labor Relations Associates, Inc., headed by Shefferman, followed a day of inquiry into labor relations of the Mennen Co., at Morristown, N. J.

Former Boone Co. Sheriff Is Shot

HARRISON (AP) — Former Boone County Judge Aubrey Hickenbottom was shot to death by Sheriff Spence M. Holder here early today.

Holder said he fired in self defense after Hickenbottom struck him with a pistol. He said Hickenbottom also was armed with a length of heavy chain.

The sheriff made no further statement, but was expected to testify at a coroner's inquest later today.

He was not taken into custody. The shooting occurred beside the courthouse square on the downtown section of this Ozark county seat.

Hickenbottom served five two-year terms as county judge before he was defeated for reelection in 1954.

Hickenbottom, a contractor, was about 50. Survivors include his widow and two children.

Communists Explain Sins of Zhukov Before Announcing His Fate

Minor Changes in Nation's Weather

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today, with scattered areas of precipitation in the West and cloudy and fairly mild in the Eastern half of the country.

A mass of cool air from the Pacific spread eastward across the northwest section of the country the last 24 hours. It moved inland along the North Pacific Coast and spread through the Rockies and Northern Plains.

Rain and snow accompanied the cool air eastward, with precipitation continuing behind the cool front. Snow flurries fell in the northern Rockies and light rain sprinkled scattered areas of the Northern Plains. The rains headed into the Lake Superior region.

Rain, drizzle and showers also were reported in the Southwest and in the Central and Southern Rockies. Rainfall ranged from heavy to light over wide areas.

The rain which hit broad areas east of the Mississippi River moved over the Atlantic. However, remnants of the wet belt were reported during the night in parts of eastern Virginia and North Carolina.

A little warming occurred in the Mississippi Valley and the Southern Plains and generally mild autumn weather was indicated from the Plains eastward to the Atlantic. Skies were partly cloudy in most areas.

Fair to partly cloudy weather prevailed along the West Coast.

Store Owner Pulls Gun on a Child

DETROIT (AP) — "Trick or treat," 5-year-old Charles Hyder demanded of John Calamarus, 69, a fruit stand operator.

When according to Charles' parents, Calamarus decided he would neither trick or treat. They said he pulled a .38 caliber pistol on young Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyder Sr. said they watched through a window as their son entered the fruit stand on his Halloween rounds.

They said Calamarus waved a pistol at the child and called him "bad names."

Calamarus denied threatening Charles with a pistol. He said Charles and a group of other children had demanded more candy than he cared to give them.

No charges were placed against the fruit stand operator.

Officer Should Know Own Coat

CHICAGO (AP) — Policeman Charles Mueller stopped a car for a minor traffic violation last night, took note of the flashy garb of one of the occupants and hauled him off to the station.

The charge: Stealing a sports coat from Mueller's parked car a year ago. Mueller said James Davis, 22, admitted stealing the coat. The driver, Billy Roberts, 21, was charged with not having a light near his license plate.

Airmen Jailed for Cashing Forged Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government agents have disclosed the arrest of three Air Force enlisted men in connection with the forging and cashing of at least $100,000 in Air Force checks in 1955-56.

Secret Service chief U. E. Baughman yesterday listed two of the men as S.Sgt. Charles A. Evans, 27, of Dyersburg, Tenn., and T. Sgt. Theodore Barry, 26 of Louisville, Ky. Barry's real name was given as Theodore Goldberg.

The Secret Service office in San Francisco last night announced the arrest of a third man in the case. Alvin C. James R. Hoyle, 21, Hoyle's address was not given.

Baughman said Evans and Barry were stationed at Parks Air Force Base near Livermore, Calif., when the alleged forgeries occurred. Presumably Hoyle also was stationed at Parks.

Barry was quoted as saying he opened a restaurant in Livermore in August 1955 to make check cashing easier, and he said $10,000 was lost in the operation of the restaurant.

The Secret Service said Evans worked in the finance office at the base handling paychecks and that he cashed five checks with forged endorsements.

In a statement to agents, Barry said Evans suggested that he go in on the deal, and that a few months later Evans began making up phony payrolls, with up to 150 names.

Barry said Evans would give him the checks to cash. The Secret Service said Evans confessed. In San Francisco, the Secret Service said Alvin Hoyle admitted he signed the name of a fictitious payee to nearly 100 checks and was paid $2 to 10 per cent in each case.

Transit Strike Is Averted

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An agreement to continue negotiations averted a transit strike in Kansas City today.

Union employees of Kansas City Public Service Co. had scheduled a walkout at midnight.

The agreement to continue negotiations is binding until Nov. 3. Operators of the company's buses and trolleybuses now make $1.87 an hour and the company offered them a four-cent increase — two cents immediately and two cents Jan. 1. The union has not disclosed its demands.

Purge of Other Red Officers Believed Coming

From Our Wire Services

Communist agitators reportedly are "explaining" Marshal Georgi Zhukov's ideological slant to the Soviet masses before Nikita S. Khrushchev reveals the fate of the ousted defense minister.

Reports reaching western capitals today from Moscow indicate that the Kremlin also is preparing a purge of Red Army officers who, like Zhukov, allegedly resisted the interference of party indoctrination officers.

Many observers said that the living Zhukov would be accused of the same crime as the late Joseph Stalin — attempting to form a "cult of personality" in the powerful Soviet army.

Soviet sources in East Berlin claimed that the Communist party central committee "cleaned" of the armed forces might lead to the downgrading of another Soviet war hero, Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky. He is chief of the general staff, and a close colleague of Zhukov.

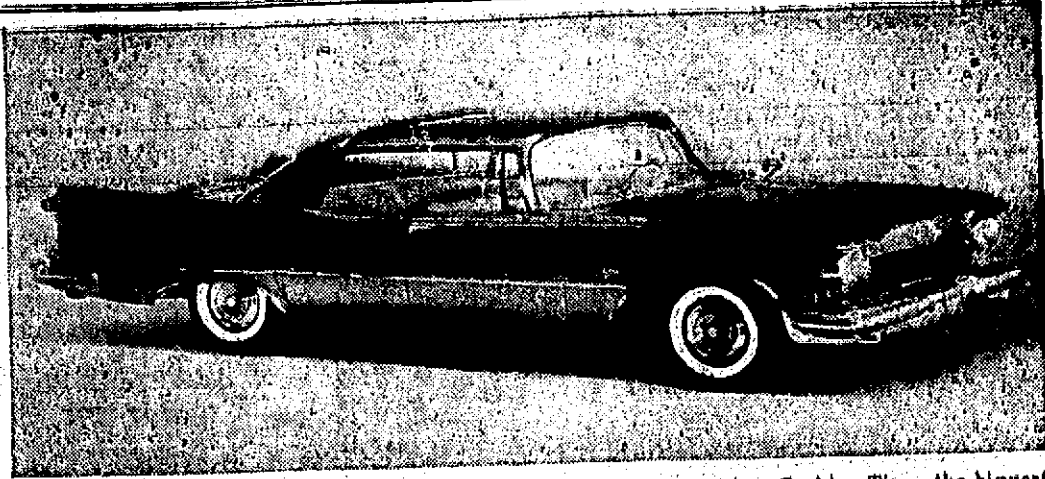

"Soviet fleet," organ of the Red Navy, published an article today reproaching "certain" unnamed men for offenses ranging from boastfulness and personal immorality to attempts to undermine party influence in the armed forces.

For the sixth straight day, the Soviet press and radio made no mention of Zhukov. But informants in the Soviet capital believed the central committee had decided his fate and that it would be announced shortly.

Red Star, the newspaper of the Soviet army, apparently sought to reassure worried professional soldiers that party commissars would interfere with purely military matters.

Howard Hughes' 'Jet Pilot' a Big Spectacle of the Jet Age

When Howard Hughes chooses to make a big picture he spares nothing to make the project an important production and an enjoyable entertainment. Latest example of his classic purse strings and his knack for getting the sort of excitement, thrills and sex on the screen that has the wildest possible audience appeal is "Jet Pilot," which opened its first local engagement at the Saenger theater Sunday.

John Wayne, Janet Leigh and the U. S. Air Force, this male adventure story in Technicolor of the dauntless men who flame across the sky more lives up to its advance herald, "the greatest spectacle of the age." Perhaps more time was spent on its preparation and production than any picture yet to reach the screen. Certainly no picture has ever contained such thrilling scenes of jet action in the clouds. Yet, surprisingly enough, it contains some of the raciest, romantic scenes, the most beautiful display of pulchritude, in the person of lively, luscious Janet Leigh, that the screen has offered in many a day.

The story centers upon an Air Force colonel who draws the intriguing assignment of staying close to a beautiful woman Russian jet pilot, when she makes an unauthorized landing at an Alaskan air base with the excuse that she is seeking asylum in America but who in reality is a top Soviet espionage agent. Following their close association in the clouds and on romantic dates at such plush playspots as Palm Springs, as he tries to learn from her the secrets of Russian air power and she attempts to carry on her undercover work for Moscow, the two fall in love.

True between love and duty, they "escape" together to Russia, where each plans a continuation of their secret assignments, and it is behind the Iron Curtain that the picture's suspenseful and exciting climax takes place.

With action moving through such a varied series of locales, the picture never allows interest to lag. John Wayne, never better, reveals anew why he continues to hold his position as the most popular star on the screen today. Janet Leigh, who is certainly one of the most beautiful girls on the screen,

News Briefs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Rickett started up steep Douglas St., on an eight-ton paving roller, but quickly found the monster sliding back down although the rollers still were turning forward. "There wasn't much I could do," said Rickett. "These things don't have brakes; just clutches. After backsliding one block, the roller cracked a telephone pole and hit two parked cars before stopping. No one was hurt."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Syria formally called on the U.N. General Assembly today to establish a seven nation fact-finding commission to investigate the Syrian-Turkish border crisis.

DIPLOMATIC QUARTERS expressed doubts that such a resolution could get the two-thirds majority required for approval.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three thousand union employees of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. have voted to strike because a McGhee operator was fired but no immediate walkout was planned, a union official said yesterday.

FLOYD R. TAYLOR, international representative in Arkansas for the Communications Workers of America said an executive union board will take up the matter.

First Graders Perform at Garland Assembly

The two first grade classes at Garland School presented the following program, on Wednesday Morning, Oct. 30.

A medley of nine nursery songs, followed by "Ten Pot, Can You Sing? Just So, Six Little Ducks, Halloween Witch and What a Surprise."

This was the first stage appearance for the first graders this year. Mrs. Eugene Jines accompanied them at the piano and Mrs. Homer Reaves directed the singing.

Approximately fifty first graders took part on the program.

Oglesby Junior Garden Club

The Junior Iris Garden Club met Monday, Oct. 28, in the 14th Grade room of Oglesby School with Jack Lloyd, president, presiding.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Betty Sue McKenzie, and song leader, Brenda Evans, led the group in singing "America the Beautiful."

Mrs. Lührby Spates and Mrs. A. A. Halbert represented the sponsoring garden club and presented an interesting program on bulbs.

Mrs. Halbert led the group in the Junior Garden Club Pledge.

After the program the children divided into groups for planting bulbs on the school play grounds. The bulbs and two rose bushes had been donated by the members of the sponsoring club. Reporter: Sherry Burke.

State of Arkansas to use judicial processes to thwart the Constitution of the United States of America.

The Little Rock ordinance was drafted by State Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett. Although it does not mention the NAACP by name, Bennett has left no doubt it was aimed at the organization.

Bennett told the councilmen he considered the ordinance a strong weapon against the NAACP, and said the organization feared "it would lose its followers if its records were shown to the public."

Bennett also said: "One of the troubles with the South is that we have been letting the darkies run to federal courts while we don't use the state courts to attack them."

City Atty. O. D. Longstreth Jr., who also attended the session, suggested that a council vote be delayed until after the NAACP petition was heard in U.S. District Court.

But Longstreth withdrew the proposal under pressure of the Aldermen. He drafted the arrest order which took effect today.

Conviction of violation of the ordinance carries a penalty ranging from $50 to $250.

smug with small victories. I lost their flaming revolutionary zeal.

Where are the turbulent, fanatics of yore? Where are the ladies who grimly paraded the streets in demand for equal rights, grimly stopping out of line only to snap the faces of jeering male bystanders? Where are the embattled Amazons of moral justice who dared jail terms, who boldly picketed the White House?

They won the right to vote, but where did they go on from there in the right to hold public office? A few won judgeships, a scattering of ambassadorial posts, a couple of Cabinet posts, a handful of seats in Congress, some governorships.

They now can outvote men, but what woman ever has been a major contender for the vice presidency or the presidency? Have the girls lost faith in themselves? Has a little small doubt crept into their minds that maybe, after all, women aren't really equal to men in the really top posts?

Women now hold 22 million jobs and make up about a third of the nation's work force. But they haven't yet been able to enforce their demand for a pay scale equal to that of men in the same jobs. They have moved into all the professions but in dismally small numbers and at a dismally slow pace.

The French feel theirs is a man's country and the United States is a hen-pecked land dominated by women. But the truth is that France has a far higher percentage of lady doctors, lady legislators, and lady lawyers than does America.

Here in the United States many industrial organizations which forcibly retire men at 65 forcibly retire their women employees at 60 or even 55, a policy which may

Breaks a Rule, Interviews Child Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — For years I have maintained a policy against interviewing child and animal actors. But I went and broke it for a second generation Ladd.

No, I was ever bitten by Baby Ladd or Rih Tin Tin. But I have been bitten by non-responsible sessions with various moppets, horses, dogs, etc. Hence the policy.

But the invitation to speak with David Ladd was persuasive. After all, the kid was playing his father Alan's son in "The Proud Rebel." And not just a walk-on, but a fat part as a deaf mute.

And didn't the producer, Sam Goldwyn Jr., brag that the kid would be a star when the picture comes out?

So we had our lunch. David had a chocolate malt and a cheeseburger. I had the willies.

"Let's get on with the interview," David suggested as he munched on the sandwich. "I want to see if you ask the same question everyone else does."

"How did you get the role?" "Mr. Goldwyn got me. He saw me in 'The Big Land' with my father and thought I could do this picture, I guess. I think he just wanted my dad to do the picture and he used me to help get him. So when Dad signed, I went with the deal."

David further revealed that he is 10, attends Black Fox Military Academy, makes 50's in his grades, is on the swimming team.

him in great peril or distress. The prayer of the Christian, however, who does believe in God is something more than that.

It is my conviction that the function of prayer is to bring us nearer to God and into the knowledge of His will and purposes.

Prayer is the ultimate act of unselfishness and personal commitment to God.

Study the Lord's Prayer, the answer of Jesus to those who asked Him to teach them how to pray, and you will see how this is in every petition. Even the prayer for daily bread, the only material request, is an acknowledgement of dependence upon God for the very maintenance of physical existence.

Back of every true prayer is the reservation, "Nevertheless, not my will, but Thine be done." And Gods will concerning us is the best that life, time and eternity can hold for us.

That is the meaning of prayer. And a true cause for thanksgiving, every day of our lives.

M/Sgt. Lloyd

JUMP WINGS were awarded recently to M/Sgt. Herbert Jack Lloyd of near Hope when he made his 30th parachute jump at Augsburg, Germany. On June 6, Lloyd graduated from the 11th Airborne Division Jump Master School, this qualifying him to command a plane of paratroopers. He entered the army in 1955, took basic at Fort Chaffee and arrived in Germany last year. His wife, Darlene, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Lloyd, reside on Hope Rt. 3.

"I go to college," he remarked mildly.

"Yeah, I went to UCLA to learn the sign language for this picture. Well, let's get on with the interview. Why don't you write down notes?"

"I don't like to. How much do you get paid for this picture?" "Thirty-five cents a day. How much do you get paid?"

"None of your business. I'm doing this interview."

"Then get on with it. I want to go for a bike ride around the studio."

"Do you like to see movies?" "Some of them. I like my dad's movies. They're always good. Why haven't you asked the question everyone asks?"

"Do you like being an actor?" "That's not the question. Yes, I like being an actor. But it's hard work."

"It looks easy."

"Yeah? It ain't as easy as being an interviewer. All you gotta do is ask questions."

It turned out that the question he is always asked is: Do you have any girl friends. "One," he said, "but you're not going to find out her name."

Finishing his meal, he dashed off to his bike and disappeared around a sound stage. Fairly shook up, I resolved never to upset policy again.

Bobcats Journey to Camden for District Game

The 4AA conference championship could be decided at Camden tonight when the Bobcats meet the Panthers.

The Panthers, a presession pick as dark horse, have shown up well in play this year. They have tied Crosswell, who along with Hope have the favorites for the title. Hope has two conference wins and no losses.

Coach Leon Turpin stated early today, that the Cats were crippled for the important game. Tommy Polk, Jerry Thurman, Jimmy May, and Jimmy Chambliss are all expected to see limited action.

Probable starting lineup:
Hope: LE Bill Hair; LT Royce Weisenberger; LG Jimmy Porter; field; C Lynn Wiggins; RG Jerry Thurman; RT Jimmy Chambliss; RE Jimmy May; QB Tommy Polk; FB Steve Crain; HB David Watkins; HB Don Booth.

Guernsey basketball teams open their 1957-58 season tonight in their own gym when they entertain Cal in three games; Sr. Boys Sr. Girl and Jr. Boys.

Rangers Vow to Maintain Order at Lone Star

By JAMES MARTIN

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Texas Ranger Capt. Jay Banks, backed by armed reinforcements, today vowed to maintain order in this strike-torn east Texas area.

Rangers and State Patrolmen were spread over a 10-county area surrounding the Lone Star Steel Co. plant, focal point of a bitter, six-week-old wildcat strike.

"This is an explosive situation," Banks said, standing outside his command post in a motel here.

"But we plan to take any action necessary to keep order."

Sporadic bombings, brawls and gunfire have rocked the area since the walkout started Sept. 21. The dispute centers on company policies in filling job vacancies.

"We're pretty sure most of the violence stems from the strike," said Banks, soft-talking, 3-foot 3-inch peace officer with one notch on the huge pistol he carries.

Banks, 45, a riot buster seasoned by Texas integration outbreaks, emphasized his forces were present only to help local authorities.

Five additional Rangers and 10 more State Patrolmen were dispatched to his command post last night after an appeal to Gov. Price Daniel by Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News-Journal. The reinforcements gave Banks a total of 10 Rangers.

"The bitterness of the strikers stems from the pocketbook," said a Daingerfield merchant, who asked not to be named. "They are sore at the guys who didn't walk out with them and these that later went back to work."

Company spokesmen say the plant had a work force of about 3,500 when the strike started. Nearly 700 men refused to join the unsanctioned strike and about 600 have quit picket lines to return to work. Around 950 new employees have been hired.

Medics Told Old Folks Need Attention

By RAY HENRY

CLEVELAND (AP) — A medical school dean said today that "a serious scandal" may soon develop if medical schools don't do more to meet the increasing health problems of older people.

"This was the view of Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, assistant medical school dean at Ohio State University, at the 10th annual meeting of the Gerontology Society. Gerontology is the scientific study of old age.

"Medical schools," he said, "have the prime responsibility in preparing their graduates for a tremendous jump in geriatric practice."

"Unless this responsibility is properly met, there may come a serious scandal in medical affairs which could adversely affect the traditionally high esteem in which people hold the medical profession."

Leake said the challenge to meet the problem results from the success of modern medicine in lengthening life.

Old people, he said, "do not know how to take care of themselves and no one else is prepared to do so, either."

The training in medical schools for treating older people, Leake said, could become a major part of the effort of men who plan to go into general medical practice.

"The general practitioner may aid in direct preparation of his patients for old age, by regular physical examinations, judicious counseling, and by specific programs of training in diet, exercise, mental relaxation, economic planning and human relations."

"The general practitioner," he said, "might indeed become again the personification of the ideal physician as guide, counselor and friend. To accomplish this mission medical schools will need careful organization and skillful planning for specific training programs in geriatrics."

In another speech, a University of Minnesota professor said that an individual's physical effort doesn't affect his earning capacity except for a small minority of jobs.

"Consequently," Dr. Ernst Simonson, associate professor of physiology and hygiene, "there is no physical justification for the army compulsory retirement age of 45."

"It can and probably will be raised with increasing pressure from the aging population."

Nixon May Be First Target of Georgians

ATLANTA (AP) — A member of a Georgia organization formed to settle Negroes in exclusive Northern white neighborhoods says Vice President Richard Nixon may be the group's first target.

But the founder of the group, American Resettlement Foundation, Inc., said any such report was entirely without foundation.

State Welfare Director Alvin Kemper, a charter member of the foundation, was asked about the Nixon report yesterday, and replied:

"I would say Nixon is a pretty good candidate."

He declined, however, to be more specific.

State Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr. of Douglasville, founder of the organization, told The Associated Press there was nothing to the report.

"It is absolutely without foundation," Fowler declared.

Kemper said a Negro family, preferably a large one, will be moved into a swanky Northern white residential area by Christmas and that Fowler had obtained an option on a house in the $75,000 class in what he described as one of the outstanding cities in the United States.

Reports had located the house in the Wesley Heights area of northwest Washington where the Nixons live and had identified the owner as Mrs. Mary H. Renshaw.

A check made by the Washington Post and Times Herald revealed that Mrs. Renshaw was out of town.

Reached by telephone in Douglassville late last night, Fowler had this to say about the report:

"I haven't said anything about any house anywhere except to say we have an option on a house in a major American city into which we hope to move a worthy and qualified Negro family by Christmas."

In a latter telephone talk with the Post and Times Herald, Fowler amplified his earlier statement.

"I have nothing to do with the Washington rumor," the Washington paper quoted him. "My contact is in another place. In fact, I have negotiations going on in several cities. Many volunteers have written me offering property. We hope to have a wholesome Georgia family located in a Northern city before Christmas."

Tabernacle Revival Draws Big Crowds

The Bible Crusade is continuing nicely at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle, with Evangelist John Bosstrom, of San Gabriel, Calif. The attendance has been good. The inspirational messages have been challenging.

The sermon for Friday, November 1st is entitled "God's Reasons for Healing the Sick Today." For the morning worship service at 11 the sermon is entitled, "The Winds of God" and during the evangelistic rally on Sunday evening, the sermon will be "Why Good People Go to Hell."

The Bible Crusade will continue through November 10th. There will be no services on Saturday evening. The public is invited.

Feels Ladies Have Gone Soft in 'Rights' Move

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to the equal rights movement, which was intended to give women the same rights as men?

Have the ladies gone soft? Very few of the ladies today seem to want to man the barricades in the fight for greater freedom for their sex.

The thought was raised by the announcement that the British government has recommended that women be granted seats in the House of Lords for the first time in history.

This would seem to be, on the face of it, one of the smallest steps to feminine equality possible and a largely meaningless political or organizational or vanished grandeur and departed power, has about as much real influence in the affairs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The president of the Little Rock chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today surrendered to the police in compliance with a City Council order that all officers of the organization be arrested.

The NAACP official, the Rev. L. C. Crenshaw, was docketed on a charge of violating a new city ordinance which requires the association and certain other organizations to file membership and financial information.

Crenshaw, a Negro Baptist minister, went unaccompanied to the police station after being notified by telephone to appear. He immediately furnished bond of $300 and was released. Hearing was set tentatively for Monday.

The City Council last night voted unanimously to instruct police to arrest all NAACP officers they could find in this integration-troubled city.

Acting Mayor Lee H. Evans and seven aldermen agreed on the action after the NAACP failed to obey a new ordinance, which requires certain groups to bare their confidential files.

Deadline for submitting the information was yesterday.

Only two local NAACP officers were known to authorities and one of them, Mrs. L. C. Bates, was in the organization.

The other officer is the Rev. J. C. Crenshaw, pastor of the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church and president of the Little Rock chapter.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson, Mann notified the NAACP and three Little Rock segregationist groups Oct. 15 that they would have make their records public under the new ordinance.

The NAACP this week filed a petition in U.S. District Court here requesting a restraining order to block enforcement of the ordinance and a hearing was set for Nov. 4.

All three of the segregationist groups — the League of Central High Mothers, the Freedom Fund for Little Rock and the Capital Citizens Council — submitted their records to the city yesterday.

Mann said after telling the four organizations to file their reports that he considered all were contributing to racial tension at Little Rock.

Mann is in New York on a business trip.

The federal-state deadlock over integration of nine Negro students at Central High School shows no sign of loosening.

After Gov. Orval Faubus placed National Guardsmen around the school and the six Negro girls and three boys were barred, a federal court enjoined the governor from interfering with integration.

Faubus withdrew the guardsmen and rioting broke out when the Negroes entered Central High Sept. 23. Next day, President Eisenhower federalized the Arkansas Guardsmen and sent 1,000 paratroopers to Little Rock. The Negroes entered the school Sept. 25 and have attended classes since.

Although most of the guardsmen have been released from all duty and half of the 101st Airborne Division contingent has left Little Rock, federal soldiers still remain inside and outside Central High.

Mrs. Bates, who is on a speaking tour, addressed a New York NAACP committee last night. Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, said she would return soon to Little Rock and would be represented by adequate counsel.

Another NAACP spokesman said she planned to leave New York for Little Rock after a Sunday speaking engagement.

"She is not the kind to run away from a fight," the spokesman said.

Marshall said the Little Rock City Council's action was "another instance of the efforts of the

California's Knight Seeks Senate Seat

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Renewed reports that Gov. Goodwin Knight would bid for a U.S. Senate seat instead of seeking re-election next year created fresh turmoil in California's hectic political campaign today.

San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers, quoting both Washington sources and "friends of the governor," said the ailing Republican chief executive sent that word from his out-of-state vacation hideaway.

Such a decision would in effect hand the Republican nomination for governor to Sen. William F. Knowland and spare the GOP a bitter intraparty battle in next June's primary.

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown is opposed on the Democratic ticket.

There was no direct confirmation from the 60-year-old governor. He left for a three-week rest Monday on doctor's orders after saying he still intended to seek re-election. Knight said then he had rejected overtures to run for the Senate.

Ike's Adviser on Payroll of Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Merlyn Pilzele, labor adviser to President Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign, testified today he drew $5,000 a year in 1953, 1954 and 1955 as an adviser to Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union.

His pay checks, he told the special Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, were received from Labor Relations Associates of Chicago, a firm headed by Nathan W. Shefferman.

Shefferman, described by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy as a specialist in "union busting," has been the principal subject of the senators' current inquiry into improper activities in the labor-management field.

Pilzele, now labor editor of Business Week Magazine, said he agreed to serve as a consultant to Beck shortly after Beck's election in 1952 as president of the Teamsters, the nation's largest union.

At the time Beck took office, succeeding the late Daniel Tobin, he was "tagged as a man who was going to clean up the Teamsters Union," Pilzele said, and was named to a committee of labor leaders assigned to clean up the New York waterfront.

But, Pilzele testified, after serving as an adviser to Beck for three years "I had my belly full. I came to certain conclusions then about Beck and the Teamsters, and I didn't want any more part of it."

Beck and James R. Hoffa, recently elected to succeed him as president of the Teamsters, have been accused by the Senate Committee and by AFL-CIO leaders of misconduct in office and misuse of union funds.

In testifying before the committee last spring, Beck invoked his Fifth Amendment privilege against possible self-incrimination after a line when he was questioned about his handling of thousands of dollars of union funds.

Pilzele, a onetime field representative for the CIO Steel workers Organizing Committee and a faculty member at the University of Wisconsin, since 1940 has been a management consultant and labor editor of the magazine Business Week.

Pilzele also is a former chairman of the New York State Labor Mediation Board and was labor adviser to Thomas E. Dewey in Dewey's unsuccessful 1944 and 1948 presidential campaigns, as well as to Eisenhower in 1952.

Kennedy said he expected today's session to be brief with possibly one other witness to be heard.

Kennedy identified the witness as Zigmund Snyder, missing for several weeks after he was subpoenaed to testify while the committee was looking into activities of James R. Hoffa, recently elected president of the Teamsters Union.

Kennedy said the committee has "caught up with" Snyder in Detroit and ordered him to appear forthwith for questioning.

Snyder, committee aides said, was business agent of Hoffa's Local 299 of the Teamsters in Detroit and was head of the dockworkers' section.

Witnesses before the committee testified that while Snyder was an official of the Teamsters local he organized a stevedoring group that operated without union affiliation on Detroit's waterfront.

They testified also that he set up an auto wash business with non union workers while other auto wash establishments in Detroit were forced to collect union dues from workers.

The new swing in the committee's inquiries into the nationwide operations of Labor Relations Associates, Inc., headed by Shefferman, followed a day of inquiry into labor relations of the Mennen Co., at Morristown, N. J.

Former Boone Co. Sheriff Is Shot

HARISON (AP) — Former Boone County Judge Aubrey Hickenbottom was shot to death by Sheriff Spence M. Holder here early today.

Holder said he fired in self defense after Hickenbottom struck him with a pistol. He said Hickenbottom also was armed with a length of heavy chain.

The sheriff made no further statement, but was expected to testify at a coroner's inquest later today.

He was not taken into custody. The shooting occurred beside the courthouse square on the downtown section of this Ozark county seat town.

Hickenbottom served five two-year terms as county judge before he was defeated for re-election in 1954.

Hickenbottom, a contractor, was about 50. Survivors include his widow and two children.

Minor Changes in Nation's Weather

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today, with scattered areas of precipitation in the West and cloudy and fairly mild in the Eastern half of the country.

A mass of cool air from the Pacific spread eastward across the northwest section of the country the last 24 hours. It moved inland along the North Pacific Coast and spread through the Rockies and Northern Plains.

Rain and snow accompanied the cool air eastward, with precipitation continuing behind the cool front. Snow flurries fell in the northern Rockies and light rain sprinkled scattered areas of the Northern Plains, the rains headed into the Lake Superior region.

Rain, drizzle and showers also were reported in the Southwest and in the Central and Southern Rockies. Rainfall ranged from heavy to light over wide areas.

The rain which hit broad areas east of the Mississippi River moved out over the Atlantic. However, remnants of the wet belt were reported during the night in parts of eastern Virginia and North Carolina.

A little warming occurred in the Mississippi Valley and the Southern Plains and generally mild autumn weather was indicated from the Plains eastward to the Atlantic. Skies were partly cloudy in most areas.

Fair to partly cloudy weather prevailed along the West Coast.

Store Owner Pulls Gun on a Child

DETROIT (AP) — "Trick or treat," 5-year-old Charles Hyder demanded of John Calamurus, 60, a fruit stand operator.

Then, according to Charles' parents, Calamurus decided he would neither trick or treat. They said he pulled a .38 caliber pistol on young Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyder Sr. said they watched through a window as their son entered the fruit stand on his Halloween rounds.

They said Calamurus waved a pistol at the child and called him "bad names."

Calamurus denied threatening Charles with a pistol. He said Charles and a group of other children had demanded more candy than he cared to give them.

No charges were placed against the fruit stand operator.

Officer Should Know Own Coat

CHICAGO (AP) — Policeman Charles Mueller stopped a car for a minor traffic violation last night, took note of the flashy garb of one of the occupants and hauled him off to the station.

The charge: Stenling a sports coat from Mueller's parked car a year ago. Mueller said James Davis, 22, admitted stealing the coat. The driver, Billy Roberts, 21, was charged with not having a light near his license plate.

Airmen Jailed for Cashing Forged Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government agents have disclosed the arrest of three Air Force enlisted men in connection with the forging and cashing of at least $100,000 in Air Force checks in 1955-56.

Secret Service chief U. S. Baughman yesterday listed two of the men as S. Sgt. Charles A. Evans, 27, of Dyersburg, Tenn., and T. Sgt. Theodore Barry, 20, of Louisville, Ky. Barry's real name was given as Theodore Goldberg.

The Secret Service office in San Francisco last night announced the arrest of a third man in the case: Airman 2C, James R. Hoyle, 21. Hoyle's address was not given.

Baughman said Evans and Barry were stationed at Parks Air Force Base near Livermore, Calif. when the alleged forgeries occurred. Presumably Hoyle also was stationed at Parks.

Barry was quoted as saying he opened a restaurant in Livermore in August 1956 to make check cashing easier, and he said $10,000 was lot in the operation of the restaurant.

The Secret Service said Evans worked in the finance office at the base handling paychecks and that he cashed a few checks with forged endorsements.

In a statement to agents, Barry said Evans suggested that he go in on the deal, and that a few months later Evans began making up phony payrolls, with up to 150 names.

Barry said Evans would give him the checks to cash. The Secret Service said Evans confessed. In San Francisco, the Secret Service said Airman Hoyle admitted he signed the name of a fictitious payee to nearly 100 checks and was paid $2 to 10 per cent in each case.

Transit Strike Is Averted

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An agreement to continue negotiations averted a transit strike in Kansas City today.

Union employees of Kansas City Public Service Co. had scheduled a walkout at midnight.

The agreement to continue negotiations is binding until Nov. 3. Operators of the company's buses and trackless trolleys now make $1.07 an hour and the company offered them a four-cent increase — two cents immediately and two cents Jan. 1. The union has not disclosed its demands.

Howard Hughes' 'Jet Pilot' a Big Spectacle of the Jet Age

When Howard Hughes chooses to make a big picture he spares nothing to make the project an important production and an enjoyable entertainment. Latest example of his classic burse strings and his knack for getting the sort of excitement, thrills, and sex on the screen that has the wildest possible audience appeal is "Jet Pilot," which opened its first local engagement at the Saenger theater, Sunday.

Starring John Wayne, Janet Leigh and the U. S. Air Force, this big-scale adventure story in Technicolor of the dauntless men who ride a flame across the sky more than lives up to its advance heralding as "the greatest spectacle of the jet age." Perhaps more time was spent on its preparation and production than any picture yet to reach the screen. Certainly no picture has ever contained such thrilling scenes of jet action in the clouds. Yet, surprisingly enough, it contains some of the raciest romantic scenes, the most delightful comedy and the most beautiful display of pithy dialogue, in the person of lively, luscious Janet Leigh, that the screen has offered in many a day.

The story centers upon an Air Force colonel who draws the intriguing assignment of staying close to a beautiful woman Russian jet pilot, when she makes an unauthorized landing at an Alaskan air base with the excuse that she is seeking asylum in America but who in reality is a top Soviet espionage agent. Following their close association in the clouds and on romantic dates at such plush playspots as Palm Springs, as he tries to learn from her the secrets of Russian air power and she attempts to carry on her undercover work for Moscow, the two fall in love.

Torn between love and duty, they "escape" together to Russia, where each plans a continuation of their secret assignments, and it is behind the Iron Curtain that the picture's suspenseful and exciting climax takes place.

With action moving through such a varied series of locales, the picture never allows interest to lag. John Wayne, never better, reveals anew why he continues to hold his position as the most popular star on the screen today. Janet Leigh, who is certainly one of the most beautiful girls on the screen,

What About Prayer?
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

In a little more than three weeks we will celebrate Thanksgiving, a time for prayer observed more, I fear, in its neglect than by its observance.

The hasty thanks given to, and the blessing petitioned of, the Creator is all too often muffled in mouths full of surreptitiously sampled dressing and bites of turkey.

Yet we never hesitate to make requests of God, our thinking too often is in terms of getting things. It may be material things; it may be something else that we greatly want; but back of our prayers too often is the notion that God can be somehow persuaded into granting what He would otherwise not have given.

This asking implies too often our consciousness of need and our willingness to receive, rather than any change on the part of God.

This is brought out quite clearly in Matthew 6:18, where Jesus, condemning "vain repetitions" in prayer, reminded His hearers that "your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him."

Should we not, then, pray for things, or especially for relief and help in time of crisis? My reply would be that we pray instinctively, just as men who do not profess belief in God will cry out to or may not reflect corporate gallantry but certainly is a plain curb on woman's quest for equality of career opportunity and lifelong earning power.

One could cite many other examples of discrimination against women, but why bother? A few isolated soprano howls of protest are raised but the old anger and outrage of most women toward man's injustice has died down.

The feminist army has been divided and conquered, and it flies banners. It is, in fact, no longer an army. It set out a generation or more ago to win the land of equality, and now it sits down and munches the half-loaf it secured for.

"This is now a woman's world," say wily men who know better, and flattered women prefer to believe it rather than fight on.

But the fact is: Assured women will never really win the full equality they once sought until they get the rust out of their minds and muscles and go back, united, into the battle.

Up, ladies! On, on, on!

State of Arkansas to use judicial processes to thwart the Constitution of the United States of America.

The Little Rock ordinance was drafted by State Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett. Although it does not mention the NAACP by name, Bennett has left no doubt it was aimed at the organization.

Bennett told the councilmen he considered the ordinance a strong weapon against the NAACP and said the organization feared it would lose its followers if its records were shown to the public.

Bennett also said:

"One of the troubles with the South is that we have been letting the darkies run to federal courts while we don't use the state courts to attack them."

City Atty. O. D. Longstreth Jr., who also attended the session, suggested that a council vote be delayed until after the NAACP petition was heard in U.S. District Court.

But Longstreth withdrew the proposal under pressure of the Aldermen. He drafted the arrest order which took effect today.

Conviction of violation of the ordinance carries a penalty ranging from $50 to $250.

smug with small victories, lost their flaming revolutionary zeal.

Where are the turbulent feminists of your? Where are the ladies who grimly paraded the streets in demand for equal rights, grimly stepping out of line only to slap the faces of jeering male bystanders? Where are the embattled Amazons of moral justice who dared jail terms, who boldly picketed the White House?

They won the right to vote, but where did they go on from there in the right to hold public office? A few won judgeships, a scattering of ambassadorial posts, a couple of Cabinet posts, a handful of seats in Congress, some governorships.

They now can outvote men, but what women ever has been a major contender for the vice presidency or the presidency? Have the girls lost faith in themselves? Has a little small doubt crept into their minds that maybe, after all, women aren't really equal to men in the really top posts?

Women now hold 22 million jobs and make up about a third of the nation's work force. But they haven't yet been able to enforce their demand for a pay scale equal to that of men in the same jobs. They have moved into all the professions but in dismally small numbers and at a dismally slow pace.

The French feel theirs is a man's country and the United States is a non-pecked land dominated by women. But the truth is that France has a far higher percentage of lady doctors, lady legislators, and lady lawyers than does America.

Here in the United States many industrial organizations which forcibly retire men at 65 forcibly retire their women employees at 60 or even 55, a policy which may

Breaks a Rule, Interviews Child Actor
By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — For years I have maintained a policy against interviewing child and animal actors. But I went and broke it for a second generation Ladd.

No. I was ever bitten by Baby Lelloy or Rih Tin Tin. But I have been bitten by non-responsible sessions with a variety of shoppets, horses, dogs, etc. Hence the policy.

But the invitation to speak with David Ladd was persuasive. After all, the kid was playing his father Alan's son in "The Prodigal Rebel." And not just a walk-on, but a fat part as a deaf mute.

And didn't the producer, Sam Goldwyn Jr., brag that the kid would be a star when the picture comes out?

So we had our lunch. David had a chocolate malt and a cheeseburger. I had the willies.

"Let's get on with the interview," David suggested as he munched on the sandwich. "I want to see if you ask the same question everyone else does."

"How did you get the role?"

"Mr. Goldwyn sent for me. He saw me in 'The Big Land' with my father and thought I could do just what my dad did to do the picture and he used me to help get him. So when Dad signed, I went with the deal."

David further revealed that he is 10, attends Black Fox Military Academy, makes 80's in his grades, is on the swimming team.

him in great peril or distress.

The prayer of the Christian, however, who does believe in God is something more than that.

It is my conviction that the function of prayer is to bring us nearer to God and into the knowledge of His will and purposes.

Prayer is the ultimate act of selfishness and personal commitment to God.

Study the Lord's Prayer, the answer of Jesus to those who asked Him to teach them how to pray, and you will see how this is in every petition. Even the prayer for daily bread, the only material request, is an acknowledgement of dependence upon God for the very maintenance of physical existence.

Back of every true prayer is the reservation, "Nevertheless, not my will, but Thine be done." And Gods will concerning us is the best that life, time and eternity can hold for us.

That is the meaning of prayer. And a true cause for thanksgiving, every day of our lives.

Bobcats Journey to Camden for District Game

The 4AA conference championship could be decided at Camden tonight when the Bobcats meet the Panthers.

The Panthers, a preseason pick as dark horse, have showed up well in play this year. They have tied Crosscut, who along with Hope were the favorites for the title. Hope has two conference wins and no losses.

Coach Leon Turpin stated early today, that the Cats were crippled for the important game. Tommy Polk, Jerry Thurman, Jimmy May, and Jimmy Chambers are all expected to see limited action.

Probable starting lineup:
Hope: LE Bill Blair; LT Royce Weisenberger; LG Jimmy Porterfield; C Lynn Wiggins; RG Jerry Thurman; RT Jimmy Chambers; RE Jimmy May; Q Tommy Polk; FB Steve Grant; HB David Watkins; HB Don Booth.

Hopes Dim as Flu Riddles Porker Squad

FAYETTEVILLE (AP) — An influenza scare raged over the University of Arkansas today on the eve of the Razorbacks' football meeting with Texas A&M, the nation's No. 1 college football team in the Associated Press poll.

A dozen members of the Porker varsity were either in bed or complaining of "feeling bad" yesterday and Coach Jack Mitchell asserted "We could be a skeleton team by Saturday if this keeps up."

There is more for the Porkers in this game than the prestige of possibly knocking off the country's top team. The once-beaten Razorbacks entertain sincere ambitions of winning the Southwest Conference championship and a loss to A&M would eliminate them from the race. And Arkansas itself has a little national prestige to uphold. The latest Associated Press poll ranks the Porkers 11th.

Halfback Don Stone and tackle Richard Bennett, both from the first unit, were added to the sick list yesterday and quarterback George Walker and halfback Don Horton were under observation.

The second unit was hit as hard with end Billy Trauman, guards Billy Michael and Billy Luplow, center Barry Switzer and halfback Billy Kysar, star of last week's 12-6 upset of Mississippi, all ailing.

The total was 10 from Arkansas' first two units which Mitchell has alternated in Arkansas' five victories and one defeat. The youthful coach was faced with the prospect of molding one team and if he is forced to do that, Arkansas will surrender its big field of superiority — depth.

Mitchell and his aides have said all along the Razorbacks could not expect to match the Aggies' first team — led by All-America candidate John Crow at halfback, quarterback Roddy Osborne and a big and solid line, and anchored by slickout tackle Charley Krueger.

Archie Finishes Off Mitchell in 4

VANCOUVER (UPI) — World light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore toyed with unranked Bobby Mitchell for four rounds Thursday and then put him away with a technical knockout at 1:45 of the fifth in what was scheduled as a 10-round non-title bout at the Exhibition Gardens.

A left hook and a right cross sent the 31-year-old Omaha, Neb. fighter sprawling to the canvas for a nine count in the fifth. Moore swarmed to the attack again and referee Bert Lowe stepped in and halted the fight. Moore weighed in at 192 pounds and Mitchell at 194.

Burdette to Be Honored in W. Virginia

By JERRY GOULD

NITRO, W. Va. (UP) — A tired Lew Burdette who said that being feted around the country "gets to be work," will be given a tribute here tonight that promises to surpass anything seen in these parts since the end of World War II.

The entire town will join in a celebration to its native son, who has not visited here since 1935. At that time, the Milwaukee "Brave" hurler was on route to spring training and stopped to pick up his family.

Fights Last Night

By The Associated Press

Vancouver, B. C. — Archie Moore, 193, San Diego, California, stopped Bobby Mitchell, 193, Omaha, Neb., 3, (non-title).

San Francisco — Bobby Scanlon, 138, San Francisco, stopped Wallace (Bud) Smith, 139, Cincinnati, 10.

Revere, Mass. — Pat McCarthy, 129½, Boston, outpointed Bobby Soares, 125½, Providence.

Tigers Journey to Little Rock Saturday Night

The Yergers Tigers journey to Little Rock Saturday night for a conference game with the Horace Mann High School team.

The Little Rock school is tied with Pine Bluff while Hope is in fourth place in the conference with three games left to play. Hope is in good shape and should give a good account of themselves. Many local fans are expected to follow the team to Little Rock.

This little town, which got its name from explosives produced in World War I, is prepared to go all out for Burdette, who tamed the New York Yankees three times in the World Series.

Burdette, a hero to millions, is still "our boy" to many residents here who remember his struggle up through the minor leagues. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Selva Leck, is Burdette, still occupy the same house where Lew grew up.

In addition to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood, who will give Burdette his personal congratulations, a senator and two congressmen will be in tonight's parade.

Mayer W. W. Alexander has proclaimed "Lew Burdette Day" and for 24 hours, main street will be Lew Burdette Ave. The local weekly newspaper for the first time will have a special edition dedicated to an individual.

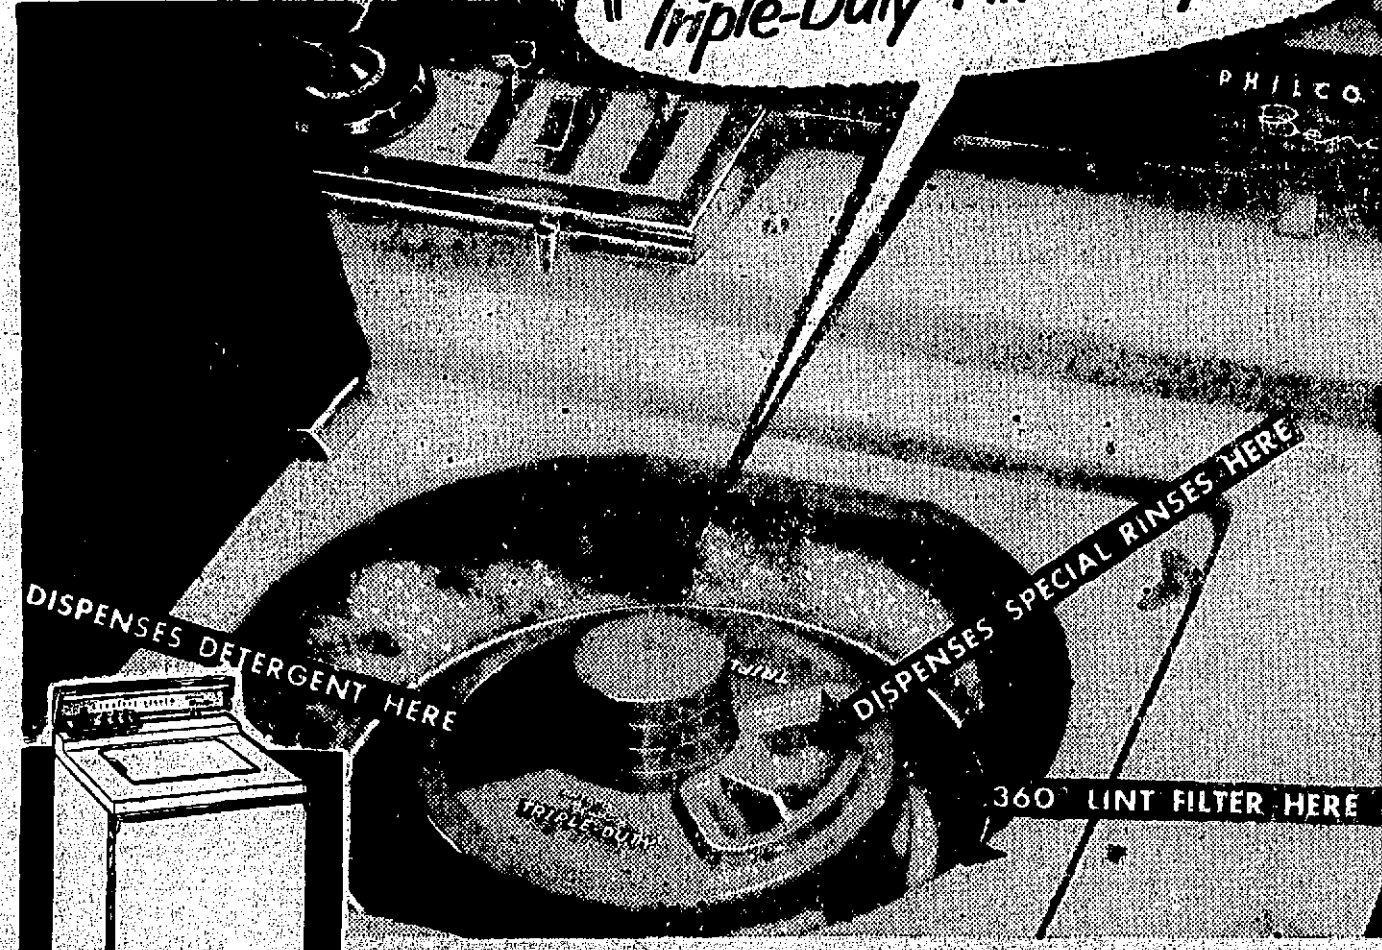

The parade will start at the town limits and will pick up momentum as it winds through this city of 3,500. A new sign at the Nitro city limits proclaims this as the "hometown of Lew Burdette."

The youngster who designed the best welcome poster will receive an enviable reward. He will sit in the lead car with Burdette, who only a few years ago drove a car here in the off season to make ends meet while playing in the minor leagues.

In addition, about 200 Little League baseball players will have their gloves autographed by Burdette.

The Greatest Sermon

Dear Sinner:

Please don't scoff the Lord. He is long suffering and His mercy is great to them that fear Him. He is our only hope, but hope deferred maketh the heart sick. Life's road would quickly come to a dead end without Him. Why not take Him at His word today? He can perform miracles with your life. He can give you the desire to attend church. He can make your deeds shine, your good works glow, so that others may be constrained to glorify the Lord, to find their way before it is too late. He says, "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." — A-men.

To Get Blood Sample of Antarctic Life

U.S. SOUTH POLE STATION, Antarctica (AP) — An IGY scientist here has asked scientific and military personnel at theouth Pole and six other U. S. antarctic stations to collect blood samples from all forms of antarctic life.

The blood will be used to check the possibility that it holds clues to the cause or prevention of cancer.

This is a side project of E. W. "Moose" Remington, a glacier expert from Bethesda, Md. Remington believes antarctic animals are free of cancer. He thinks there may be something in their blood to give researchers a new clue. The blood samples will be sent to the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda.

Mrs. Arthur Wimmell, pianist; Mrs. Manuel Hamm will teach the lesson.
